PSYCHOMETRIKA—VOL. 5, NO. 4
DECEMBER, 1940

INDEX FOR VOLUME 5

Adkins, Dorothy C. (with G. Frederic Kuder), "The Relation of Primary Mental Abilities to Activity Preferences," 251-262.

Babitz, Milton (with Noel Keys), "A Method for Approximating the Average Intercorrelation Coefficient by Correlating the Parts with the Sum of the Parts," 283-288.

Bedell, Ralph, "Scoring Weighted Multiple Keyed Tests on the IBM Counting Sorter," 195-202.

Bishop, Ruth, "Points of Neutrality in Social Attitudes of Delinquents and Non-delinquents," 34-46.

Blair, H. A., Advances and Applications of Mathematical Biology, by N. Rashevsky, — a Review, 311-312.

Blakey, Robert, "A Re-analysis of a Test of the Theory of Two Factors," 121-136.

Dressel, Paul L., "Some Remarks on the Kuder-Richardson Reliability Coefficient," 305-310.

Dunlap, J. W., "Note on the Computation of Tetrachoric Correlation," 137-140.

Dwyer, P. S., "The Evaluation of Multiple and Partial Correlation Coefficients from the Factorial Matrix," 211-232.

Flood, M. M., "A Computational Procedure for the Method of Principal Components," 169-172.

Godard, R. H. (with E. F. Lindquist), "An Empirical Study of the Effect of Heterogeneous Within-Groups Variance Upon Certain F-Tests of Significance in Analysis of Variance," 263-274.

Guttman, Louis, "Multiple Rectilinear Prediction and the Resolution into Components," 75-100.

Harrell, Willard, "A Factor Analysis of Mechanical Ability Tests," 17-34.

Holzinger, Karl J., "A Synthetic Approach to Factor Analysis," 235-251.

Householder, A. S. (with Gale Young), "Factorial Invariance and Significance," 47-56.

Householder, A. S. (with Gale Young), "Weber Laws, The Weber Law, and Psychophysical Analysis," 183-194.

Kelley, Truman L., "The Future Psychology of Mental Traits," 1-16.

Kelley, Truman L., "Comment Upon Wilson and Worcester's 'Note on Factor Analysis,' " 117-120.

Keys, Noel (with Milton Babitz), "A Method for Approximating the Average Intercorrelation Coefficient by Correlating the Parts with the Sum of the Parts," 283-288.

Kuder, G. Frederic (with Dorothy C. Adkins), "The Relation of Primary Mental Abilities to Activity Preferences," 251-262.

Landahl, H. D., "Time Scores and Factor Analysis," 67-74.

Lindquist, E. F. (with R. H. Godard), "An Empirical Study of the Effect of Heterogeneous Within-Groups Variance Upon Certain F-Tests of Significance in Analysis of Variance," 263-274.

McCloy, C. H., "The Measurement of Speed in Motor Performance," 173-182.

McQuitty, John V. (with Charles I. Mosier), "Methods of Item Validation and Abacs for Item-Test Correlation and Critical Ratio of Upper-Lower Difference," 57-66.

Mosier, Charles I. (with John V. McQuitty), "Methods of Item Validation and Abacs for Item-Test Correlation and Critical Ratio of Upper-Lower Difference," 57-66.

Mosier, Charles I., "A Modification of the Method of Successive Intervals," 101-108.

Preston, Malcolm G., "Concerning the Determination of Trait Variability," 275-281.

Rashevsky, N., "Contributions to the Mathematical Theory of Human Relations. III," 203-210.

Rashevsky, N., "Contributions to the Mathematical Theory of Human Relations. IV," 299-303.

Roff, Merrill, "Linear Dependence in Multiple Correlation Work," 295-298.

Thurstone, L. L., "An Experimental Study of Simple Structure," 153-168.

Tucker, L. R., "The Role of Correlated Factors in Factor Analysis," 141-152.

Tucker, L. R., "A Matrix Multiplier," 289-294.

Wherry, Robert J., "An Approximation Method for Obtaining a Maximized Multiple Criterion," 109-116.

Young, Gale (with A. S. Householder), "Factorial Invariance and Significance," 47-56.

Young, Gale (with A. S. Householder), "Weber Laws, The Weber Law, and Psychophysical Analysis," 183-194.
